On March 20, 2016, the IDB Board approved the creation of the Compete Caribbean Partnership Facility (CCPF) as a multi-donor Trust Fund jointly funded by the United Kingdom's Department for International Development (DFID) and the Caribbean Development Bank (CDB). The ultimate goal of the Compete Caribbean Partnership Facility is to support the Caribbean region in increasing productivity and Caribbean firms' contribution to economic growth. The specific objectives are to (i) support firms to grow, innovate and enter new sectors and markets; and (ii) to promote an environment that enables innovation and growth. The Facility will support productivity and economic growth in the Caribbean by focusing on two thematic pillars: (i) productivity and innovation in firms; and (ii) enhancing the business and innovation climate. The Facility is being executed by Inter-American Development Bank and henceforth all procedures related to operations and implementation thereof must comply with IDB policies.

The proposed consultancy will be funded by the CCPF with the aim of improving the enabling environment for business development, trade and integration in Barbados. The objective of this consultancy is to deliver standardized international training for master trainers to facilitate Alternative Dispute Resolution training development and increased capacity for local delivery of future training.

The consulting services ("the Services") include the following activities to be implemented over a 12-month period:

To design and deliver a master trainer course that will build regional capacity in the design and delivery of future arbitration training for and by regional experts. Following completion of the commercial arbitration and mediation training courses, the training consultants will work with the AMCC to select the twelve (12) participants considered viable candidates as Master Trainers. For clarity, and in the event the arbitration and mediation courses are delivered by separate consultants, six (6) participants will be chosen from each discipline. Participants are envisaged to be from varying professional backgrounds, both legal and commercial. Designed as an interactive training product, the course should include an introduction to adult learning processes with topics including, but not limited to, setting objectives; icebreakers; training and facilitation; identifying participant needs; creating a program; using visual aids; encouraging discussion; individual and group work; difficult participants; sensitive issues; and wrapping up well. Ideally, the course should lead to certification confirming the participants' knowledge and ability as future trainers to an internationally respected standard.
